The Star Model by Jay Galbraith

What is the Star Model?

The Star Model is a strategic planning tool developed by Harvard Business School professor Jay Galbraith. It is designed to help organizations align their structure, processes, and culture to achieve their goals effectively. The model focuses on five key elements represented by the acronym STAR:

- Strategy: The overall direction and goals of the organization.
- Structure: The organizational chart and reporting relationships.
- Processes: The workflows and systems used to accomplish tasks.
- Rewards: The compensation and recognition systems that motivate employees.
- Culture: The shared values, norms, and beliefs that influence employee behavior.

How the Model Works

The Star Model postulates that these five elements are interconnected and must be in alignment for successful organizational performance. Changes in one area impact the others, necessitating a holistic approach to strategic planning. By considering all
