The Geography Bee: A Discontinued Competition

The National Geographic Geography Bee was an annual competition for students in grades 4 through 8, which tested their knowledge of world geography. However, the competition was discontinued in 2019 due to declining interest from schools and students, as well as the rise of other geography-related competitions.

Preparing for the Geography Bee

Despite its discontinuation, the legacy of the Geography Bee continues. If you're interested in preparing for geography competitions or simply want to improve your geographic knowledge, here are some tips:

- Study a map: Get familiar with the locations of countries, continents, oceans, and major landforms.
- Read geography books and articles: Explore different cultures, landscapes, and historical events to broaden your understanding.
- Play geography games: Online platforms and mobile apps offer interactive games that can test your geographic knowledge.
- Join a geography club or activity: Engage with peers who share your passion for geography.

Eligibility and Format of the Geography Bee

To participate in the National Geographic Geography Bee, students needed to be enrolled in grades 4 through 8 at a participating school. The competition featured a two-stage format:

- School Bee: Students competed at their schools, with the winner advancing to the state level.
- State Bee: State winners competed for a spot in the National Final.

Spelling Bee vs. Geography Bee

The spelling bee is a similar competition that tests students' spelling abilities. While the format and rules differ, both competitions promote knowledge and academic excellence.

Prizes and Winners of the Geography Bee

The National Geographic Geography Bee awarded various prizes to its winners, including:

- Grand Prize: A trip to the Galápagos Islands and a scholarship of $50,000
- Second Place: A cash prize of $25,000
- Third Place: A cash prize of $15,000

Additional Geographic Contests and Trivia

- National Geographic GeoChallenge: An online contest for students in grades 5 through 12.
- World Geography Quiz Bowl: A team-based competition for high school and university students.
- International Geography Olympiad: A global competition for high school students.
- Scripps National Spelling Bee: The oldest and most prestigious spelling bee in the United States.
- "BEE" in Spelling Bee: Stands for "Barnhart English Exam," the dictionary used in the competition.
- Geography in National Geographic: A magazine that covers topics related to world cultures, landscapes, and environmental issues.

- Is National Geographic Discontinued?: No, it is still being published and has expanded its reach to digital platforms.
- Is There a Bee Shortage?: Yes, bee populations are facing challenges due to habitat loss, pesticides, and climate change.

Join the Geography Bee and Related Competitions

While the National Geographic Geography Bee has been discontinued, other geographic competitions and activities continue to provide opportunities for students to learn and excel in the field. Reach out to your school or local organizations to find out about these programs.
