How does a budget work? A budget is a plan you write down to decide how you will spend your money each month. A budget helps you make sure you will have enough money every month. Without a budget, you might run out of money before your next paycheck.

What is a budget format? “When we speak of budgeting formats, we are talking about the way in which budgeting information is structured, the kind of information that is required to justify budget requests, and what kind of questions are asked during the budget review process” (Morgan, 2002, p. 71).

How to gather information for a budget? At its core, a budget is a worksheet with separate categories for income, expenses, and savings. So, you'll need to gather your financial documents, such as pay stubs, credit card and bank account statements, and auto or student loan bills, to ensure you have enough information to get started.

What is a budget document? The budget document is very important, since it identifies the services to be provided (along with the funding), and the rationale behind key decisions. Because of the time required to read and understand the entire budget document, a concise summary that captures these elements is essential.
