What were the Federalists main concerns? Most significantly, the Federalists believed that the greatest threat to the future of the United States did not lie in the abuse of central power, but instead could be found in what they saw as the excesses of democracy as evidenced in popular disturbances like Shays' Rebellion and the pro-debtor policies of many ...

What did the Federalists favor quizlet? The federalists favored the constitution and they wanted a strong national government that the constitution provided.

What happens in a Federalist system?
