500 Key Words for the SAT: How to Remember Them Forever

The SAT is a standardized test that many students take to get into college. One of the sections of the SAT is the vocabulary section, which tests your knowledge of words. If you want to do well on the vocabulary section of the SAT, you need to know a lot of words.

There are many different ways to learn new words. One way is to use a flashcard system. With a flashcard system, you write down the word on one side of the card and the definition on the other side. Then, you quiz yourself on the words by looking at the word on one side of the card and trying to remember the definition on the other side.

Another way to learn new words is to use a word list. A word list is a list of words that you need to learn. You can find word lists online or in books. When you use a word list, you can go through the list and try to memorize the words.

There are also many different online resources that can help you learn new words. Some of these resources include:

- Merriam-Webster Online Dictionary
- The SAT Vocabulary Builder

These resources can provide you with definitions, examples, and practice questions to help you learn new words.

How to Remember Words Forever

Once you have learned new words, you need to be able to remember them. There are many different ways to remember words, but some of the most effective methods include:

- Use the words in your everyday speech and writing. The more you use a word, the more likely you are to remember it.
- Create a mnemonic device for the word. A mnemonic device is a trick that you use to help you remember something. For example, you might create a rhyme or a song to help you remember the word.
- Picture the word in your mind. When you picture the word in your mind, you are creating a mental image that will help you remember the word.

By using these methods, you can learn and remember 500 key words for the SAT and improve your score on the vocabulary section of the test.
