What are some study questions on Things Fall Apart?

What is the theme question of Things Fall Apart? A recurring thematic question in Things Fall Apart is to what degree the collapse of the Ibo and the downfall of Okonkwo are due to their own internal weaknesses or the whims of a pernicious fate.

Who is Okonkwo's favorite child? 2. Who was Okonkwo's favorite child, and what did he often say about the child? His favorite child was Ezinma, daughter of Ekwefi. He often said it was a shame she wasn't a boy.

Why can't Okonkwo be buried? Obierika asks the Commissioner if his men will cut Okonkwo down from the tree and bury him. According to tradition, the people of the clan cannot touch the body of a man who killed himself — a sin against the earth.

Why was Ikemefuna killed? Okonkwo kills Ikemefuna because he does not want to be thought as weak by the other men who are with him. The theme of tradition can be seen in the ultimate reason for Ikemefuna's death. He is murdered because the oracle has decided he must be killed to atone for the killing of a young Umuofian woman.

Why does Okonkwo hang himself? Okonkwo hangs himself because he cannot stand to watch his culture die out under the weight of colonialism. He has always had great pride in his tribe.

What is the main message of Things Fall Apart? Things Fall Apart is about the struggle between change and tradition, which is amplified by the introduction of Christianity. This struggle is portrayed individually through Okonkwo and societally by the actions of his fellow clansmen.

Why does Okonkwo wish Ezinma was a boy? Okonkwo believes Ezinma has the spirit and qualities of a boy because she sits like a boy and wants to do the chores that a boy would typically do. He wishes openly throughout the novel that she had been born a boy. Ekwefi had lost nine children as infants before Ezinma was born.

How many wives does Okonkwo have? Okonkwo's Wives Okonkwo has three wives in the novel. His first wife is only referred to as "first wife" or "Nwoye's mother", Ekwefi is his second wife and the mother of Ezinma, and Ojiugo is his youngest and third wife. Okonkwo sees his wives as his property and reduces their value to servitude.

Who is Okonkwo's favorite wife? Chinua Achebe's 1958 novel Things Fall Apart follows an Igbo leader, Okonkwo, through his tumultuous life in colonial Nigeria. His second wife Ekwefi is perhaps his favorite of all of his wives, and her daughter is by far his favorite child.

Why does Chielo take Ezinma? Chielo takes Ezinma to the cave of Agbala against the wishes of her parents. Chielo carries her on her back for miles in order to cleanse and purify her from illness.

What is Okonkwo's popular nickname? In 'Things Fall Apart', the main character, Okonkwo, is often described in terms of fire and flames - his nickname is even 'Roaring Flame' - so, to him, fire symbolizes potential, masculinity, and life.

Why is Okonkwo's death ironic? In Things Fall Apart, the irony is that a proud, successful, and important man such as Okonkwo ends up hanging himself. It's tragic irony because the reader has many hints that this might happen. The reader sees on multiple occasions that Okonkwo doesn't deal well with change.

Who cuts down Okonkwo's body? Obierika asks for the Commissioner's help to cut down and bury Okonkwo's body. When the Commissioner asks why the Umuofians can't do it themselves, Obierika explains that it is against their customs. The Umuofians believe that the bodies of suicide victims are evil and unclean and they must be buried by strangers.

Why does Okonkwo walk away after killing the Messenger? Okonkwo sees that Umuofia has changed; he believes that the way they have reacted to the messenger's death means that they have too much fear to go to war against the Englishmen. Quietly, Okonkwo simply cleans his machete and walks away from the mass of scared and unsure villagers.

Why are twins bad in Things Fall Apart? Igbo society viewed twins as a bad omen sent by the “Gods.” They considered twins as supernatural beings that could bring devastation upon society. In Chinua Achebe's acclaimed novel, Things Fall Apart, I learn that the Earth goddess had decreed that twins “were an offence on the land and must be destroyed.

What happens to twins born in Umuofia? Hence, the earth goddess detests and curses the birth of twins. For this curse, all neonate twins in Umuofia, Mbanta and neighbouring villages were put in an earthenware bowl and disposed of in total rejection in the evil forest.

Is Umuofia a real place? The Things Fall Apart setting takes place in Africa, specifically in the southeastern tip of Nigeria. The book's protagonist lives in the fictional village of Umuofia, which is part of a cluster of nine Igbo villages in the area.

Why does Okonkwo call himself a shivering old woman? In calling himself a “shivering old woman,” Okonkwo associates weakness with femininity. Although he denigrates his emotional attachment to Ikemefuna, he seeks comfort in his affectionate friendship with Obierika.

What happens to Nwoye? Nwoye leaves the hut and never returns. Instead, Nwoye moves to Umuofia, where the white missionary started a school for young people. He plans to return someday to convert his mother, brothers, and sisters. At first, Okonkwo is furious with his son's action, but he concludes that Nwoye is not worth his anger.

What was the great sin that Okonkwo committed? Hence, by killing a messenger of the gods, Okonkwo committed an abomination and defiled the goddess's land. Therefore, Okonkwo was exiled from his village for seven years to cleanse the village of sin because the killing was considered a crime against the earth goddess.

What is the main message of the book Things Fall Apart? Things Fall Apart is about the struggle between change and tradition, which is amplified by the introduction of Christianity. This struggle is portrayed individually through Okonkwo and societally by the actions of his fellow clansmen.

What is the main problem in Things Fall Apart? Major conflict On one level, the conflict is between the traditional society of Umuofia and the new customs brought by the whites, which are in turn adopted by many of the villagers. Okonkwo also struggles to be as different from his deceased father as possible.

What are the main points of Things Fall Apart? These themes include colonization, family, religion, tradition, language, masculinity, and fate and free will. Things Fall Apart follows Okonkwo, the novel's protagonist, as he navigates relationships with his family, community, and culture all while his culture is being erased through colonization.

What was the most important lesson in Things Fall Apart? The novel Things Fall Apart ultimately conveys the message that change is inevitable and that it is important to be open to new ideas and ways of life. Okonkwo's refusal to accept change leads to his downfall, while those who are more open to change are able to adapt and survive.

World Religions and Cults: Counterfeits of Christianity, Volume 1

Q: What is the purpose of this volume? A: This volume aims to provide an overview of the major world religions and cults that claim to be Christian but deviate from the core doctrines of the faith.

Q: What are the key characteristics of cults? A: Cults typically exhibit traits such as a charismatic and authoritative leader, strict hierarchical control, distorted or partial interpretations of Scripture, and an emphasis on personal loyalty over objective truth.

Q: What threats do cults pose to Christianity? A: Cults can undermine the integrity of Christianity by misleading individuals and distorting the gospel message. They can also cause spiritual and emotional harm to those who become involved.

Q: How can we distinguish between genuine Christianity and cults? A: Genuine Christianity is characterized by faithfulness to Scripture, belief in the deity of Christ, and the importance of salvation through faith. Cults, on the other hand, often depart from these fundamental principles and emphasize other doctrines or practices.

Q: What is the best way to protect ourselves from cults? A: The best defense against cults is to be well-grounded in the truth of Scripture and to exercise discernment. Being aware of the characteristics of cults and staying connected to a healthy Christian community can also help protect individuals from falling prey to false beliefs and practices.

Traditional Architectural Marvels of Saudi Arabia

Saudi Arabia's rich history and cultural heritage are reflected in its diverse architectural landscape. Traditional Saudi Arabian architecture boasts unique features adapted to the region's harsh climate and nomadic lifestyle.

Q: What are the key characteristics of traditional Saudi Arabian architecture?

A: Traditional Saudi Arabian buildings prioritize functionality and sustainability. They feature thick, unadorned walls made of mud bricks or stone to provide insulation from extreme temperatures. Arched windows and doorways maximize air circulation while reducing heat gain. Curved roofs made of palm fronds or limestone tiles provide protection from the relentless sun and sand storms.

Q: How does the "Majlis" play a cultural role?

A: The "Majlis" is a central component of traditional Saudi homes and serves as a communal gathering space for social interactions, business meetings, and dispute resolution. It often features a spacious, open floor plan with comfortable seating and elaborate decorations that reflect the family's status and hospitality.

Q: What is the significance of courtyards and water features?

A: Enclosed courtyards known as "sahn" create private and shaded outdoor spaces within homes. They often incorporate water features such as fountains or decorative pools to provide cooling and create a sense of tranquility. The courtyards allow for natural ventilation and offer a respite from the scorching heat.

Q: How have traditional architectural elements been incorporated into contemporary buildings?

A: Modern Saudi architecture embraces elements of traditional design while incorporating advanced technologies. The use of mud bricks, arched windows, and curved roofs is often seen in contemporary buildings to create a connection to the country's heritage. Sustainable practices such as passive cooling techniques and water conservation are also incorporated into modern designs to align with traditional values.

Q: What are some notable examples of traditional Saudi Arabian architecture?

A: The historic Diriyah district, a UNESCO World Heritage site, showcases traditional mud-brick houses and mosques that have been preserved and restored. Other notable examples include the stunning Masmak Fort in Riyadh, known for its intricate mud-brick construction, and the Al-Balad district in Jeddah, famous for its traditional coral stone houses and narrow streets.
