What does Things Fall Apart by Chinua Achebe symbolize? In Things Fall Apart by Chinua Achebe, some important symbols are the egwugwu, locusts, yams, folktales, fire, and the Mother of the Spirits. Egwugwu are important in the decision-making of Umuofia and represent the clan's very foundation. The locusts symbolize the colonists who come to Umuofia.

What are the main points of Things Fall Apart? These themes include colonization, family, religion, tradition, language, masculinity, and fate and free will. Things Fall Apart follows Okonkwo, the novel's protagonist, as he navigates relationships with his family, community, and culture all while his culture is being erased through colonization.

Is Things Fall Apart a postcolonial novel? Things Fall Apart is a novel published in 1958 in English Language by Nigerian postcolonial writer Chinua Achebe portraying the life-development and fall of the protagonist Okonkwo. With the main plot of the novel, Achebe dared to unmask the follies and foibles in Igbo cultural society.

What is Achebe's point in Things Fall Apart? When Things Fall Apart was first published, Achebe announced that one of his purposes was to present a complex, dynamic society to a Western audience who perceived African society as primitive, simple, and backward.

What is the deeper meaning of Things Fall Apart? The Struggle Between Change and Tradition As a story about a culture on the verge of change, Things Fall Apart deals with how the prospect and reality of change affect various characters. The tension about whether change should be privileged over tradition often involves questions of personal status.

What was the author's main message in Things Fall Apart? What is the main message of "Things Fall Apart"? Things Fall Apart is about the struggle between change and tradition, which is amplified by the introduction of Christianity. This struggle is portrayed individually through Okonkwo and societally by the actions of his fellow clansmen.

Why does Okonkwo hang himself? Okonkwo hangs himself because he cannot stand to watch his culture die out under the weight of colonialism. He has always had great pride in his tribe.

What is the moral lesson of Things Fall Apart? The novel Things Fall Apart ultimately conveys the message that change is inevitable and that it is important to be open to new ideas and ways of life. Okonkwo's refusal to accept change leads to his downfall, while those who are more open to change are able to adapt and survive.

Why did Okonkwo beat his wife? During the Week of Peace, Okonkwo notices that his youngest wife, Ojiugo, has left her hut to have her hair braided without having cooked dinner. He beats her for her negligence, shamefully breaking the peace of the sacred week in a transgression known as nso-ani.

What role does gender play in Things Fall Apart? In Things Fall Apart, women are viewed mainly as child bearers and help mates for their husbands. They are seen as one of his possessions, and her role as a woman is underestimated since she is considered as a weaker sex.

How is Things Fall Apart a tragedy? Answer and Explanation: Things Fall Apart is a tragedy because it follows Okonkwo's downfall within his clan.

Why is Things Fall Apart a feminist novel? In conclusion, while "Things Fall Apart" is not a feminist text per se, it does offer some insights into the roles of women in Igbo society. The novel portrays the strength and resilience of women, while also highlighting the limitations and discrimination they face.

What is the main purpose of the novel Things Fall Apart? Achebe's primary purpose of writing the novel is because he wants to educate his readers about the value of his culture as an African. Things Fall Apart provides readers with an insight of Igbo society right before the white missionaries' invasion on their land.

Who is Okonkwo's favorite wife? Chinua Achebe's 1958 novel Things Fall Apart follows an Igbo leader, Okonkwo, through his tumultuous life in colonial Nigeria. His second wife Ekwefi is perhaps his favorite of all of his wives, and her daughter is by far his favorite child.

What is the conclusion of Things Fall Apart? Caught between his rage that the nine villages would succumb to European rule and the futility of fighting the Europeans alone, Okonkwo retreats to his compound and hangs himself. With this act, Okonkwo lives up to his role as a tragic hero whose struggles with society ultimately lead to death.
