What are Racial Microaggressions? Racial microaggressions are brief and often unintentional slights, insults, or indignities that communicate negative messages about a person's race. They can be verbal, behavioral, or environmental and can range from casual comments to more overt discrimination.

How do Racial Microaggressions Manifest? Microaggressions can take various forms:

- Indirect: Example: "Where are you really from?" (implying that the person doesn't belong in the current setting).
