Q: What was it like playing with some of the biggest names in rock music?

A: It was an incredible experience. I was lucky enough to play with some of the best musicians in the world, and I learned a lot from each of them. I was also able to see how they worked and how they approached their music. It was a great education for me.

Q: What was your favorite song to play live?

A: I loved playing "Kashmir" with Led Zeppelin. It's such a powerful and epic song, and it always got the crowd going. I also enjoyed playing "Smoke on the Water" with Deep Purple. It's a classic rock song that everyone knows and loves.

Q: What was the most challenging song you ever played?

A: I think the most challenging song I ever played was "The Battle of Evermore" with Led Zeppelin. It's a very complex song, with a lot of different time signatures and tempos. It was a challenge to get it right, but I'm proud of the way it turned out.

Q: What advice would you give to aspiring drummers?

A: Practice, practice, practice! There's no substitute for hard work. And don't be afraid to experiment. Find your own sound and your own style.

Q: What are you working on these days?

A: I'm currently working on a new solo album. I'm also doing some session work and playing live with a few different bands. I'm always busy, but I love it!
