What is the story of the house at the bottom of a lake? In the throes of first love, two teens have their romance tested after discovering a mysterious house in an abandoned lake. James and Amelia, both 17, are good kids. After becoming instantly attracted to each other in his father's hardware store, they go on a canoe outing on a lake where James' uncle has a place.

What is the house at the bottom of the lake about? Two teenagers row out to some hidden lake where they go swimming and discover an actual house sitting at the bottom of the lake. And it's not just some old, dilapidated house that might have been swallowed up by a sinkhole or something reasonable like that.

Is The House by the Lake Based on a true story? The House by the Lake authored by Thomas Harding is a nonfiction book for adults, which was shortlisted for the Costa Award. It is a compelling read that uncovers 100 years of history centring on his family's summer house by the shores of Gross Glienicke See, a wooded area of natural beauty.

What is the ending of The Lake House? Heartbroken, Kate asks Alex not to write to her again, recounting the accident a year before. Both Alex and Kate leave the lake house, continuing on with their separate lives. Kate gets back together with Morgan; Alex vacates the lake house and rents it out to Morgan and Kate starts living there.

What is the story behind the lake house? A lonely doctor (Sandra Bullock), who once lived in a beautiful lakeside home, falls in love via letters with its latest resident, a frustrated architect (Keanu Reeves). When they discover that they are living two years apart, the pair must unravel the mystery behind their incredible romance.

What is the plot twist of the house across the lake? She breaks into the Royce home and finds Katherine tied up in the basement, but still alive. Tom confronts both of them and "Katherine" explains that she is in fact Casey's dead husband Len. It is revealed that Len was the serial killer behind the three dead girls.

What is the point of the lake house? "The Lake House" tells the story of a romance that spans years but involves only a few kisses. It succeeds despite being based on two paradoxes: time travel, and the ability of two people to have conversations that are, under the terms established by the film, impossible.
