What is the self concept in person-centred counselling? The self-concept is a central aspect of the person-centred approach to counselling. It is basically how people define themselves, for example, 'I am caring, I am cheerful, I can sometimes be funny'.

What is an example of Carl Rogers theory? Rogers believed self-actualization was something every individual was seeking. Self-actualization is when an individual achieves their full potential. Self-actualization can be marked by a few substantial experiences in life. For example, if someone achieves their dream job, this is an example of self-actualization.
