How many letters did Kafka write to Felice? During that time, Kafka wrote more than 500 letters to Felice, and in which he also offered his strange way of loving, a winding and steep road carved from illness, literature and which was excessively rigorous for him.

Did Kafka give the letter to his father? History. According to Max Brod, Kafka gave the letter to his mother to deliver to his father but she never did.

What else did Kafka write? They also include other works representative of Kafka's maturity as an artist: The Judgment, written in 1912 and published a year later; two other long stories, The Metamorphosis (published in 1915) and In der Strafkolonie (1919; In the Penal Colony); and a collection of short prose, Ein Landarzt (1919; A Country ...

Why didn't Kafka marry Felice? But by the second engagement, Kafka and Bauer were conclusively forced apart – Kafka's diagnosis with tuberculosis in 1917 had dashed any prospect of marriage. In his final letter to Felice, he wrote: “If we value our lives, let us abandon it all ...

Who did Kafka truly love? Kafka returns to Prague and keeps sending Milena letters, confiding in her the most intimate details of his sexual life. Franz's condition becomes more and more unbearable. In 1923, as he's resting on the Baltic Sea, Kafka meets his last love, Dora Diamant.

What was the last letter of Kafka? In his last letter, one day before his death, Kafka had written: "... And I am still not very pretty, not at all a sight worth seeing [...] So, dear parents, don't you think that for the moment we should let it go?"

How old was Kafka when he died? Over the course of his life, Kafka wrote hundreds of letters to family and close friends, including his father, with whom he had a strained and formal relationship. He became engaged to several women but never married. He died in obscurity in 1924 at the age of 40 from tuberculosis.

What was Franz Kafka's famous quote? He who seeks does not find, but he who does not seek will be found. Every revolution evaporates and leaves behind only the slime of a new bureaucracy.

What makes Kafka so special? Interiors are described more often, but never directly as a part of nature, as in naturalistic drama. And yet Kafka is not only a close observer of the actual world, he also knows how to inspire the reader with a conviction, such as can only arise from accurate observation, of its obduracy and nearness.

What was Kafka's philosophy? The human condition, for Kafka, is well beyond tragic or depressed. It is "absurd." He believed that the whole human race was the product of one of "God's bad days." There is no "meaning" to make sense of our lives.

Why did Felice and Kafka break up? After a tenacious struggle, their relationship twice culminated in an engagement (1914, 1917) – cancelled immediately on both occasions. Eighteen months after her final break-up with Kafka – brought on partly by the onset of his illness – Felice married a Berlin businessman by the name of Marasse.

Why did Kafka stop writing to Milena? Like the doll in his story, Kafka finally used letter writing to break away from Milena (and from the little girl in the story) and eventually stopped writing love letters in order to move to Berlin (for Kafka, an ersatz Palestine, where he could live with Dora).

What happened to Milena's letters? Kafka apparently burned all of Milena's letters, in addition to hoards of his own drawings, writings, sketches, and journals. Some scholars estimate that Kafka burned up to 90% of his lifetime writings, which is a travesty of loss to the literary world.
