Whitepaper on Distributed Ledger Technology: Questions and Answers

What is distributed ledger technology (DLT)?

DLT is a digital ledger, accessible by multiple parties and synchronized across a network of computers. It records and stores transactions in a secure, verifiable, and tamper-proof manner, eliminating the need for intermediaries and fostering trust among participants.

How does DLT differ from traditional centralized databases?

Unlike centralized databases controlled by a single entity, DLT is decentralized. All participants in the network have a copy of the ledger and must validate transactions before they are added. This consensus mechanism ensures data integrity and reduces the risk of manipulation.

What are the applications of DLT?

DLT has broad applications across various industries. It can be used for:

- Financial transactions: Secure and efficient settlement, cross-border payments, and asset tokenization.
- Supply chain management: Traceability of goods, reduction of fraud, and improved efficiency.

- Healthcare: Secure sharing of medical records, prescription drug tracking, and patient identity management.

What are the key characteristics of DLT?

DLT offers:

- Decentralization: Eliminates single points of failure and fosters trust among participants.
- Transparency: All transactions are recorded and visible to authorized parties.
- Immutability: Once a transaction is confirmed, it cannot be altered or deleted.
- Security: Advanced encryption techniques and consensus mechanisms protect data from unauthorized access or manipulation.

What are the challenges and future of DLT?

While DLT holds immense potential, it faces challenges such as scalability, interoperability, and regulatory uncertainty. Ongoing research and development aim to address these challenges and drive the widespread adoption of DLT in various sectors.

Are there 24 tributes in The Hunger Games? Except in special cases such as Quarter Quells, 24 children between the ages of 12 and 18 were chosen at random to participate. Who is the tallest tribute in The Hunger Games?

What are some good questions about The Great Gatsby chapter 7?

What is the main idea of Chapter 7 in The Great Gatsby? Chapter 7 is arguably the most important chapter in the novel. It features the story's climax, where Tom confronts Gatsby about his affair with Daisy, and Daisy kills Myrtle with Gatsby's car.

Why does Tom let Daisy leave with Gatsby? Why does Tom insist that Daisy and Gatsby drive home together? There has just been a huge argument after Gatsby attempts to get Daisy to deny her love for Tom. Daisy backs away and Gatsby is deflated. As to rub both their noses in this humiliation, Tom tells Daisy to return with Gatsby.

What causes Tom to realize that his wife? What causes Tom to realize that his wife has been having an affair with Gatsby? Tom witnesses a moment between Daisy and Gatsby. "You always look so cool." and "She told him that she loved him and Tom saw." What does Gatsby understand about Daisy's voice that Nick does not?

What lie does Nick catch Gatsby in Chapter 7? Back at Tom's house, Nick waits outside and finds Gatsby hiding in the bushes. Gatsby says that he has been waiting there in order to make sure that Tom did not hurt Daisy. He tells Nick that Daisy was driving when the car struck Myrtle, but that he himself will take the blame.

Who did Gatsby fire in Chapter 7? He also learns that Gatsby also fired all of his servants because Daisy thought they might gossip about their relationship (she now visits often during the afternoon). He replaced the servants with some of Wolfsheimer's men. As soon as he gets Daisy, Gatsby no longer needs "new money" parties.

What does Gatsby stop doing in Chapter 7? Gatsby stops throwing parties. Nick goes to see him and discovers that Gatsby ended the parties because he didn't need them anymore to get Daisy's attention. Furthermore, Daisy was worried the servants would talk about their relationship, so Gatsby let them go, employing some of Wolfsheimer's men in their stead.

Who does Daisy choose at the end of chapter 7? She tells Gatsby, "You always look so cool," and everyone else can see that "[s]he had told him that she loved him." However, Daisy chooses Tom in the end and even lets him tell George that it was Gatsby who killed Myrtle.

Does Tom know that Daisy killed Myrtle? Tom realises that it was Gatsby's car that struck and killed Myrtle. Back at Daisy and Tom's home, Gatsby tells Nick that Daisy was driving the car that killed Myrtle but he will take the blame.

Who was richer, Tom or Gatsby? Gatsby isn't as rich as Tom. Gatsby has money, but Tom is old (by American standards) money. This is, by and large, the theme of the novel: the American version of the difference between wealth and money.

Does Tom actually love Myrtle? Myrtle sees the affair as romantic and a ticket out of her marriage, while Tom sees it as just another affair, and Myrtle as one of a string of mistresses. The pair has undeniable physical chemistry and attraction to each other, perhaps more than any other pairing in the book.

Did Daisy really love Tom? Though Gatsby insisted that Daisy never loved Tom, Daisy admitted that she loved both Tom and Gatsby. The confrontation ended with Daisy leaving with Gatsby in his yellow car, while Tom departed with Nick and Jordan.

What is the significance of Chapter 7 in The Great Gatsby? Chapter 7 marks the climax of The Great Gatsby. Twice as long as every other chapter, it first ratchets up the tension of the Gatsby-Daisy-Tom triangle to a breaking point in a claustrophobic scene at the Plaza Hotel, and then ends with the grizzly gut punch of Myrtle's death.

What does Gatsby's car symbolize in chapter 7? Yellow is seen around the tragic death of Myrtle, in which Daisy hits her with the car. Myrtle was killed by Gatsby's yellow Rolls Royce, in front of her yellow brick house, under the yellow spotlight.

eyes of Dr. T.J. Eckleburg. Gatsby's car is a symbol for moral decay as it is used in Daisy's hit and run.

What is an example of irony in The Great Gatsby Chapter 7? Myrtle Wilson's death in Chapter 7 (and its aftermath) is an instance of dramatic irony: The “death car.” as the newspapers called it, didn't stop; it came out of the gathering darkness, wavered tragically for a moment, and then disappeared around the next bend.

Why does Tom cry when Myrtle dies? However, he also blames Gatsby for the accident, believing that Gatsby was driving at the time it occurred, and so one might wonder if he's crying over what happened to Myrtle or if he's crying because he believes that this one man, Gatsby, has threatened to take away both his women in one afternoon: he might have ...

What secret did Gatsby tell Nick? In Chapter Four, Gatsby educates Nick in his own personal mythology. He tells Nick that he is the son of wealthy parents, that he is a diamond collector, and that he has an Oxford education, along with various other lies. As the chapter continues, he reveals his intentions to steal away Daisy from her husband.

What does Jordan call Daisy in chapter 7? Jordan calls Daisy a low, vulgar girl. They have a close relationship and they are close enough to mess around with each other.

Who is to blame in Chapter 7 of The Great Gatsby? Gatsby: Gatsby was in the car at the time of the death. Although he didn't kill and was the one driving, he did let Daisy drive in an unstable condition. He was also the one to take the blame. While talking to Nick he states, "Yes," he said after a moment, "but of course I'll say I was" (Fitzgerald 143).

What is the significance of the green light in chapter 7? Because the green light hangs at the end of Daisy's dock, and Gatsby bought his house in order to be able to see it each night, the green light most obviously symbolizes his unwavering love for Daisy.

What do the colors symbolize in The Great Gatsby Chapter 7? In chapter 7, Daisy and Jordan wear white dresses to symbolize their purity, or appearance of purity, in contrast to Daisy's actions. Yellow symbolizes corruption. Gatsby's car is yellow representing his corrupt business dealings (organized crime).

What is a good question about The Great Gatsby? Why is Gatsby unable to put the past behind him? Why does he demand that Daisy renounce her former love for her husband? What choice would you have made in Daisy's situation? What role does Daisy play in Gatsby's downfall?

Why does Gatsby call off his parties in Chapter 7? In The Great Gatsby, Gatsby stops giving parties because of Daisy's reaction to the party she attends and because he has attained what he had hoped the parties would give him - renewed contact with Daisy.

How old is Nick in Chapter 7 of The Great Gatsby? "I was thirty. Before me stretched the portentous, menacing road of a new decade," Nick tells us. In part, the imagery of the road is repeated in the horror that happens on the road when Myrtle runs in front of the car. Turning thirty means, for him, that the innocence of Gatsby and the promise of life is over.

How does Gatsby earn his money? The character is an enigmatic nouveau riche millionaire who lives in a luxurious mansion on Long Island where he often hosts extravagant parties and who allegedly gained his fortune by illicit bootlegging during prohibition in the United States.
