Strategies of Containment: A Critical Appraisal of US National Security Policy During the Cold War (John Lewis Gaddis)

What was the theory behind the doctrine of containment? The doctrine of containment, as articulated by George Kennan in 1947, aimed to prevent the spread of communism by containing Soviet influence and aggression. It held that the United States should actively resist any Soviet expansion, whether through military or political means.

How was the doctrine of containment implemented in practice? The United States implemented containment through various strategies, including the establishment of alliances like NATO (North Atlantic Treaty Organization), the provision of military and economic aid to anti-communist states, and the use of covert operations. The policy aimed to deter Soviet aggression, support democratic movements, and promote economic stability.

What were the successes of the doctrine of containment? Containment played a crucial role in preventing the spread of communism in Western Europe and elsewhere. It helped to stabilize the global political order, deterred direct military conflict with the Soviet Union, and provided a framework for US foreign policy during the Cold War.

What were the limitations of the doctrine of containment? While containment was effective in many respects, it also had limitations. Some critics argued that it led to unnecessary military spending and diplomatic tensions. Others contended that it failed to adequately address the underlying causes of communism and that it was ultimately too inflexible in the face of changing geopolitical conditions.

Did the doctrine of containment contribute to the end of the Cold War? While containment is often credited with contributing to the collapse of the Soviet Union and the end of the Cold War, it is important to note that it was only one of many factors that led to the demise of communism. Other factors, such as economic stagnation, political instability, and the rise of democratic movements within the Soviet bloc, also played a role.

Test 2A AP Statistics Answers

Question 1: A random sample of 50 students was taken from a large university. The sample mean GPA was 3.25, and the sample standard deviation was 0.5. Construct a 95% confidence interval for the population mean GPA.

Answer: $z = 1.96$ $SE = 0.5 / \sqrt{50} = 0.071$ $CI = 3.25 \pm 1.96 \cdot 0.071 = (3.177, 3.323)$

Question 2: A survey of 1000 adults found that 60% of them support the death penalty. Test the hypothesis that the proportion of adults who support the death penalty is different from 50%. Use a significance level of 0.05.

Answer: $p = 0.6$ $n = 1000$ $H_0: p = 0.5$ $H_1: p \neq 0.5$ $Z = (0.6 - 0.5) / \sqrt{0.5 \cdot 0.5 / 1000} = 4.47$ $p\text{-value} < 0.0001$ Reject H_0

Question 3: A researcher wants to determine if there is a relationship between the number of hours spent studying for a test and the test score. The researcher collects data from 10 students and finds the following:

Study Hours Test Score

5	82
7	89
2	70
4	78
6	87
1	60
9	95
8	90
10	98

Answer: $r = 0.95$ $r^2 = 0.90$ There is a strong positive correlation between study hours and test score.

Question 4: A medical researcher is testing the effectiveness of a new drug for treating a particular disease. The researcher randomly assigns 100 patients to the treatment group and 100 patients to the control group. After a period of time, the researcher finds that 60% of the patients in the treatment group recovered, while only 40% of the patients in the control group recovered. Test the hypothesis that the recovery rate for the treatment group is higher than the recovery rate for the control group. Use a significance level of 0.05.

Answer: $p_1 = 0.6$ $p_2 = 0.4$ $n_1 = 100$ $n_2 = 100$ $H_0: p_1 = p_2$ $H_1: p_1 > p_2$ $Z = (0.6 - 0.4) / \sqrt{0.5(1 - 0.5)(1/100 + 1/100)} = 4.47$ $p\text{-value} < 0.0001$ Reject H_0

Question 5: A company wants to determine if there is a difference in the average salary of male and female employees. The company randomly samples 50 male employees and finds that their mean salary is $60,000 with a standard deviation of $5,000. The company also randomly samples 50 female employees and finds that their mean salary is $55,000 with a standard deviation of $4,000. Test the hypothesis that there is no difference in the average salary of male and female employees. Use a significance level of 0.05.

Answer: $\bar{x}_1 = 60,000$ $\bar{x}_2 = 55,000$ $s_1 = 5,000$ $s_2 = 4,000$ $n_1 = 50$ $n_2 = 50$ $H_0: \mu_1 = \mu_2$ $H_1: \mu_1 \neq \mu_2$ $t = (60,000 - 55,000) / \sqrt{(5000^2/50 + 4000^2/50)} = 3.77$ $p\text{-value} < 0.0001$ Reject H_0
