Why did Anne write in her journal? Anne Frank received her diary as a gift on her thirteenth birthday in 1942. At first, it was her place to record observations about friends and school and her innermost thoughts. But when she and her family went into hiding the month after the diary began, it became a war document.

Why was Anne Frank's journal important? Anne Frank's story has influenced people's opinion of the Holocaust as much as any other work of art. The reason being that it shows the inhuman victimization of the Jews during the Holocaust. It also shows that the belief that people are basically good no matter how horrendous their acts, can be reason for hope.

What did she write about in her diary Anne Frank? Ultimately, it was only to Kitty that she entrusted her innermost thoughts. In her diary, Anne wrote of her very close relationship with her father, lack of daughterly love for her mother (with whom she felt she had nothing in common), and admiration for her sister's intelligence and sweet nature.

How old was Anne Frank when she got her journal? On her thirteenth birthday, just before they went into hiding, Anne was presented with a diary. During the two years in hiding, Anne wrote about events in the Secret Annex, but also about her feelings and thoughts.

What were Anne Frank's last words? Anne's last entry was written on Tuesday 1 August 1944. It reads: Dearest Kitty, "A bundle of contradictions" was the end of my previous letter and is the beginning of this one.

Why does Anne decide to name her journal Kitty? Why does Anne Frank name her diary Kitty? Anne was frustrated, isolated, and lonely in the cramped quarters they were hiding in. She wanted her diary to be a friend that she could find comfort in and confide in. With that in mind she named the diary Kitty and decided to give it a personality.

What does Anne Frank's diary teach us? The diary ends suddenly on 1 August 1944. There are many important messages in this book, but the most important message is that all people have the right to live in freedom. Anne's story shows us that just because people may be a different religion or race, doesn't mean that they should be treated differently.

What does Anne Frank's diary reveal? Anne's precious diary reveals her fears and hopes during their time in the "Secret Annex" and gives dramatic insight into the lives of Jews struggling to survive under the threat of Nazism.

What does Anne write in the diary about herself and her sister? Answer. Answer: Anne's diary entries concerning her sister were mainly about the jealousy she felt towards Margot because she felt like their parents treated Margot better than they treated Anne.
