Third Sunday of Ordinary Time, Year A (February 16, 2014): "You Shall Not..."

1. What is the significance of the "Ten Commandments" given to Moses on Mount Sinai?

The Ten Commandments, also known as the Decalogue, are a fundamental part of the Jewish and Christian faiths. They represent God's covenant with his people, given to Moses after their liberation from slavery in Egypt. The Commandments outline the basic moral guidelines by which all people should live.

2. Why did God give humanity the Ten Commandments?

God gave the Commandments to provide a clear framework for human behavior and to guide us towards a righteous and holy life. They help us to understand our relationship with God, with others, and with ourselves. By following the Commandments, we acknowledge God's authority and strive to live in accordance with his will.

3. What are the key themes of the Ten Commandments?

The Ten Commandments can be divided into two main categories: the first four commandments deal with our relationship with God (e.g., "You shall have no other gods before me"), while the remaining six commandments focus on our responsibilities to others (e.g., "You shall not kill"). Love of God and love of neighbor are the underlying principles of all the Commandments.

4. What does it mean to "worship no other gods"?

The first commandment forbids us from worshipping any other deities besides the one true God. This means that we should not put anything else in our lives above God, such as our possessions, our careers, or our own desires. True worship involves honoring and glorifying God alone.

5. How can we apply the Ten Commandments to our daily lives?

The Ten Commandments serve as a guide for our actions and decisions. By striving to live according to them, we can cultivate virtue, avoid sin, and live a life pleasing to God. They remind us of our duty to love God with all our hearts and to show love and respect to others. As we follow the Commandments, we grow in holiness and draw closer to God.
