Which car manufacturer historically prevented use of the Alpine name in the UK? The last Alpine, an A610, rolled off the Dieppe line on 7 April 1995, with Renault abandoning the Alpine name. This was always a problem in the UK market. Alpines could not be sold in the UK under their own name because Sunbeam owned the trade mark (because of the mid-50s Sunbeam Alpine Mk I).

Are Alpine and Renault the same? Formerly named Renault F1 Team and owned by the French automotive company Groupe Renault as well as Renault–Nissan–Mitsubishi Alliance, the team was rebranded for 2021 to promote Renault's sports car brand, Alpine, and continues to serve as Renault's works team.

Why did Alpine replace Renault? Renault's boss stated explicitly that it's because the medium-term goal for Renault is to become a EV-only brand, with no sporting focus at all but focus on being a "clean"/eco-friendly brand.

Can you buy Alpine Cars in the US? Alpine plans to arrive in America by 2027. Alpine plans to launch in America with two electric crossovers, one midsize and one larger one, by 2027. The vehicles would be positioned to take on the Porsche Macan (soon to be an EV) and the Cayenne Coupe.

What are Renault called now? Future chassis produced by the Enstone-based team will be designated as Alpines, but the Renault name will remain as the cars will run Renault E-TECH hybrid engines, produced in Viry-Chatillon. Team Principal Cyril Abiteboul said the team were determined to return to the podium and win under its new colours.

Is Alpine a Renault engine? Alpine is considering abandoning its works Renault engine in Formula 1 from 2026 and has opened talks with rival manufacturers about the possibility of securing a customer deal instead.

What happened to Renault Sport? It was made a division and reorganised in 2002 and 2016. In December 2021, all Renault Sport operations were merged into an Alpine-led business unit.

What car manufacturer is Alpine? Alpine is a French car manufacturer owned by the Renault group. The company was founded in Dieppe, Normandy and the A110 sports car is still produced there.

What is the history of the Alpine car brand? Alpine was founded in 1955 by Jean Rédélé, a young man with a passion for motorsport whose favorite playground - the Alps - inspired the name of his brand. The company took off as soon as the original A110 appeared in 1962.

What is the defunct British car manufacturer? Alvis. Austin, Morris, Rover, Riley, Triumph and Wolseley were all Great British brands that were absorbed and, ultimately, killed by the masterclass in mismanagement that was British Leyland. Alvis, which could trace its roots back to 1919 and was once one of Britain's most innovative car makers, met the same fate.

What is the name of the Alpine F1 car? The Alpine A521 is a Formula One car designed by the Alpine F1 Team which competed in the 2021 Formula One World Championship.
