Grading Systems in the Philippines**

The Philippine Department of Education (DepEd) has implemented several grading systems over the years. Here's a summary of the current and upcoming grading methods:

DepEd Averaging Grading System

This traditional grading system calculates a student's grade based on the average of their grades in different assignments, quizzes, and exams. The final grade is typically represented on a scale from 0 to 100.

DepEd Honor Grading System

Similar to the averaging system, the honor grading system also calculates a student's final grade based on their performance in various assessments. However, it uses a different grading scale:

- Outstanding: 90-100
- Very Satisfactory: 85-89
- Satisfactory: 80-84
- Fairly Satisfactory: 75-79
- Did Not Meet Expectations: 74 and below

CGPA Grading System

The Cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA) system assigns letter grades to students based on their numerical grade equivalents. The CGPA for each quarter or semester is calculated by dividing the total number of grade points earned by the total number of units taken.

Bases for Grading in DepEd Order #8 2015

According to DepEd Order #8 2015, the bases for grading in secondary education include:

- Knowledge and Understanding
- Process Skills
- Values Integration
- Product or Performance

New Grading System for 2024

In 2023, DepEd announced a new grading system known as the 60-40 Grading System. This system emphasizes formative assessment, which focuses on providing students with feedback to improve their learning.

- 60% of the student's grade will come from summative assessments, such as exams and projects.
- 40% of the grade will come from formative assessments, such as quizzes, homework, and participation.

Equivalency of Grading Systems

The different grading systems used by DepEd have the following approximate equivalencies:

- Outstanding: A, 90-100
- Very Satisfactory: A, B, 85-89
- Satisfactory: B, C, 80-84
- Fairly Satisfactory: C, D, 75-79

- Did Not Meet Expectations: D, F, 74 and below

Legal Basis for Student Athletes in the Philippines

Republic Act 10585, known as the Magna Carta for Students, provides legal protection for student athletes. It prohibits schools from discriminating against athletes based on their athletic abilities and mandating that student athletes be given academic support.
