That said, when you realize who the killer is you are faced with an interesting hypothesis.

Why was Ann lobotomized in From Hell? Ann is soon located in a workhouse after being lobotomized because doctors deemed her violent and insane. What were they smoking in from hell? So in the beginning of the movie, we see the main character drinking Absinthe (alcohol wine) with several drops of laudanum onto a sugar cube. Opium dens are shown several times, with people smoking opium to the point of unconsciousness.

Is there any truth to the movie from hell? From Hell is based on a graphic novel of the same title, by Alan Moore and Eddie Campbell.
