What is the methodology of hay making? Field methods In windrows, drying is faster than in swath, because of the opening of the stomata in the lower layers. For hay making the harvest has to be taken up after the dew has dried. The harvested fodder has to be allowed for curing in the field itself, and has to be turned after every 4-5 hours.

What is the hay group model of employee effectiveness? According to the Hay Group Survey, there are influential factors that drive EE, including clear and promising direction, satisfactory payment and reward, opportunities for growth, respect and recognition, customer focus and confident leadership. ...

What is the point method of job evaluation? The point method is an extension of the factor comparison method. Each factor is then divided into levels or degrees which are then assigned points. Each job is rated using the job evaluation instrument.

What are the methods of job evaluation classification? Classification (also known as Job Evaluation) is a systematic process of evaluating the duties, responsibilities, scope, and complexity of a position description to determine the job title that most appropriately matches the job specifications and standards.

The Move to Global War: Questions and Answers

1. What were the main causes of the global war that broke out in 1939?

Answer: The main causes of World War II were the rise of aggressive dictatorships in Germany, Italy, and Japan; the failure of the League of Nations to prevent aggression; and the Western democracies' policy of appeasement.

2. How did the rise of Adolf Hitler and the Nazi Party impact Germany's role in the global war?

Answer: Hitler's rise to power in 1933 led to a rapid militarization of Germany and the rejection of the Treaty of Versailles. The Nazi regime pursued aggressive expansionist policies, annexing Austria and Czechoslovakia and invading Poland in 1939, which sparked the outbreak of the war.

3. What was the role of the United States in the early years of the war?

Answer: In the early years of the war, the United States maintained a policy of neutrality but provided significant financial and military aid to the Allies. After the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor in 1941, the United States entered the war on the side of the Allies.

4. How did the war impact the global balance of power?

Answer: The war led to the defeat of the Axis powers and a change in the global balance of power. The United States and the Soviet Union emerged as superpowers, while the British Empire declined and Europe was devastated.

5. What were the long-term consequences of the global war?

Answer: The war had a profound impact on the political, economic, and social landscape of the world. It led to the creation of the United Nations, the end of colonialism, and the rise of the Cold War. The war also caused widespread destruction and human suffering, with millions of people killed and displaced.
