Who We Be: The Colorization of America by Jeff Chang

Q: What is the main argument of "Who We Be"?

A: Jeff Chang argues that race is a social construct that has been used to divide and conquer people of color in America. He traces the history of racialization from the colonial era to the present, showing how it has shaped our institutions, our culture, and our sense of identity.

Q: How does Chang define race?

A: Chang defines race as "a way of differentiating between human beings in order to create and maintain social, economic, and political inequalities." He emphasizes that race is not a natural or biological category, but rather a social construction that has been used to justify oppression.

Q: What are some of the examples that Chang uses to illustrate the colorization of America?

A: Chang discusses a wide range of examples, including the use of redlining to create segregated neighborhoods, the mass incarceration of black and brown people, and the police brutality that has become a deadly epidemic. He also examines how racial stereotypes and caricatures have been used to dehumanize people of color and justify discrimination.

Q: What does Chang propose as a solution to the problem of race?

A: Chang argues that we need to actively challenge the racist structures and ideologies that divide us. He calls for a new understanding of race that is based on solidarity and equality, and he emphasizes the importance of building alliances across racial lines to fight for social justice.

Q: What is the significance of "Who We Be"?

A: "Who We Be" is a groundbreaking work that has helped to reshape the way we think about race in America. Chang's insights have been influential in fields such as sociology, history, and cultural studies, and his book remains a vital resource for anyone who wants to understand the complex legacy of race in our society.
