Why did Margo run away in Paper Towns? Quick answer: Margo ran away because she felt her hometown of Orlando was fake, likening herself to a "paper girl" in a "paper town." She sought authenticity in Agloe, New York, a fictional town created for maps, which she considered more real.

How old is Cara Delevingne in Paper Towns? How did Quentin find Margo? Eventually he heads over to the real town near Agloe, and spots Margo after he's bought a bus ticket back to Orlando. The two get milkshakes together, duke it out over everything. She invites him to come with her but doesn't say where, and when he tells her to call her sister, Margo says they talk everyday.

What was the point of paper town? It seems to me that the central problem of being a person is that it is extremely hard to empathize with other people, and Paper Towns is an exploration of how we learn to empathize, even with people who may be super annoying or make terrible choices.

Did people like the Paper Towns movie? Paper Towns is, overall, a good film but the ending completely ruins the entire story and the themes that it was building.

What POV is Paper Towns? Paper Towns is told from the point of view of a teenage boy named Quentin 'Q' Jacobson. Quentin loves Margo Roth Spiegelman, though she has never been one to hang around with him.

Did Margo want to be found? Quentin yells at Margo for being a brat, and Margo counters that they shouldn't have come to search for her. She says that she didn't want to be found. Quentin yells that she didn't think about how her departure would affect the people she left behind.

What is the main problem in the book Paper Towns? There are many minor conflicts in Paper Towns, but one of the major conflicts is Man vs. Society as Q tries to find Margo. It is man vs. society as Quentin tries to find Margo because she has disappeared and he feels it is his responsibility to find her.

Is Quentin truly in love with Margo? Although Quentin's feelings for Margo are genuine, it is clear that he is more in love with the idea of her than with the real person. He is drawn to her beauty and intelligence, but it is his idealized version of her that fuels his feelings for her.

What is the message of Paper Towns? Paper Towns is a story about love, friendship and what it's like to be young. One of my favourite things about the story is that it profoundly demonstrates some really complex lessons about the way we relate and connect to each other.

What happens to the eyebrow in Paper Towns? Quentin and Margo successfully break into Chuck's house. Margo spreads hair removal cream on Chuck's right eyebrow, then she and Quentin spread Vaseline on the doorknobs. Back in Chuck's bedroom, Quentin wipes the hair removal cream from Chuck's face, taking Chuck's entire right eyebrow with him.

Did Margo want Quentin to find her? In Agloe, they discover Margo is living in an old, dilapidated barn. She is shocked to see them, which angers the group, who expected her to be grateful for their presence. Margo had left those clues only to assure Quentin that she is okay, and did not want to be found.

Why does Margo call it a paper town? In the first part, “The Strings,” Margo and Q use the phrase “paper town” to refer to Orlando, and Margo calls it a “paper town” because it's flimsy and planned—from above, Orlando looks very much like a city that someone built out of origami or something.
