1000 Records Before You Die**

"1000 Records Before You Die" is a bucket list for music enthusiasts, compiling an essential selection of the most important and influential albums released throughout history. The list aims to guide listeners through a diverse range of musical genres, time periods, and cultures, showcasing the transformative power of music.

1000 Albums Before You Die Podcast

The "1000 Albums Before You Die" podcast is a companion to the website of the same name. It features insightful discussions about each of the albums on the list, delving into their musical, historical, and cultural significance. Hosted by Robert Christgau, the podcast offers a unique perspective on the evolution of popular music and its place in our lives.

Longest Record Ever

The longest record ever is "The Rise and Fall of Bossanova" by PC III, released in 1966. The album spans a staggering 7 hours and 3 minutes, featuring over 100 tracks of experimental and avant-garde electronic music.

"10000 Days" Album Title

Tool's album "10000 Days" was titled as such to represent the 10,000 days that had passed since the band's previous album, "Lateralus." The album explores themes of time, mortality, and the human condition, and its lengthy title reflects the band's introspection and the significance they placed on the album's release.

Guinness Record Podcast

The "Guinness Record Podcast" is an official podcast from Guinness World Records. It highlights extraordinary achievements and record-breaking feats from around the globe. The podcast covers a wide range of topics, including human achievements, natural wonders, and technological advancements.

First Album to Reach 1 Billion Streams

"Shape of You" by Ed Sheeran was the first album to reach 1 billion streams on Spotify. Released in 2017, the album broke streaming records and showcased the global popularity of pop music.

Song with Longest Number 1 Run

"Old Town Road" by Lil Nas X ft. Billy Ray Cyrus holds the record for the longest-running number 1 song on the Billboard Hot 100 chart, with a 19-week streak. The country-rap hybrid track captured the attention of listeners worldwide and became a cultural phenomenon.

World Record for Life

Jeanne Calment, who died in 1997 at the age of 122 years and 164 days, holds the Guinness World Record for the longest life span of any human. Her exceptional longevity remains an intriguing and unsolved mystery.

Unbreakable World Record

To date, the world record for the highest jump by a human remains unbroken. Javier Sotomayor of Cuba set the record at 8 feet 11 inches (2.75 meters) in 1993. Despite advancements in training and technology, the record stands as a testament to human athleticism.

"Born to Die" Record-Breaking

Lana Del Rey's debut album, "Born to Die," broke several records upon its release in 2012. It became the first album by a female artist to sell over 1 million copies in the United States in its debut week, and it also set records for the highest-charting debut album by a new artist on the Billboard 200 chart.

Most Expensive Record

"Once Upon a Time in Shaolin" by the Wu-Tang Clan is the most expensive record ever sold. In 2015, it was auctioned off for a staggering $2 million to a single buyer. The album's exclusivity and elaborate packaging contributed to its astronomical price tag.

"78" Records

"78" records, also known as shellac records, refer to the early gramophone records that were made of a shellac compound. These records were popular from the late 1800s to the mid-1900s and typically played at 78 revolutions per minute (RPM).

Future's Number 1 Records

Rapper Future has accumulated a total of 8 number 1 albums on the Billboard 200 chart. His most successful albums include "Future" (2017), "HNDXXX" (2017), and "What a Time to Be Alive" (with Drake, 2015).
