Why is the last judgment controversial? The reception of the painting was mixed from the start, with much praise but also criticism on both religious and artistic grounds. Both the amount of nudity and the muscular style of the bodies has been one area of contention, and the overall composition another.

What is the main message of the last Judgement? Christianity teaches that all will stand to be judged by God at the Second Coming of Jesus Christ. In early Christian art the scene is one of Christ as judge, the resurrection of the dead, the weighing of souls, the separation of the saved and the damned, and representations of heaven and hell.

Why did Michelangelo put himself in the last judgement? Bartholomew is the artist's self-portrait. Multiple theories exist to explain Michelangelo's choice in this portrayal. One is that it was a plea to God for personal redemption. Another is that it betrays Michelangelo's uncertainty about his own fate, as the skin hangs over hell.

What is Danto's philosophy of art? Danto's "institutional definition of art" defines art as whatever art schools, museums, and artists consider art, regardless of further formal definition. Danto wrote on this subject in several of his works and a detailed treatment is to be found in Transfiguration of the Commonplace.

Why is Arthur Danto important? Arthur is and will remain exemplary, as a philosopher and critic, because of the way he understood the intimate relationship between philosophy and art, and especially because of his insistence that the philosophy of art be calibrated to contemporary practice, and not just to Warhol's or Salle's work.

What is the institutional theory of art Danto? The view championed by George Dickie in 1974, following on work by Arthur Danto, that art institutions such as museums and galleries, and specific agents working within them, have the power to dictate what is art and what is not.
