Sonnet 3 is a love poem that explores the themes of beauty, time, and mortality. It is one of Shakespeare's most famous and widely read sonnets.

GRAMMAR IN USE INTERMEDIATE WITH ANSWER WITH AUDIO CD SELF STUDY REFERENCE

Who is the speaker of the poem addressing?

The speaker of the poem is addressing a young man, referred to as the "fair youth." Throughout the sonnets, Shakespeare expresses his love and admiration for this person, who is believed to be either Henry Wriothesley, 3rd Earl of Southampton, or William Herbert, 3rd Earl of Pembroke.

What is the main idea of the poem?

The main idea of the poem is that the beloved's beauty will not last forever, and that the only way to preserve it is through poetry. The speaker urges the youth to "make wasteful war upon time's spoil" by having children, who will inherit his beauty and pass it down through generations.

How does the poem use literary devices?

Shakespeare uses several literary devices in Sonnet 3, including personification (giving time human characteristics), metaphor (comparing the youth's beauty to a summer's day), and antithesis (contrasting ideas, such as "youth" and "age"). The poem's rhyme scheme is ABAB CDCD EFEF GG, with a final couplet that summarizes the main theme.

What is the overall tone of the poem?

The overall tone of the poem is one of urgency and bittersweetness. The speaker is aware that the youth's beauty will not last forever, and he is determined to do everything he can to preserve it. The poem also conveys a sense of melancholy, as the speaker realizes that he will eventually lose the object of his affection.
