Scholastic Scope: The Lazy Editor Answer Keys Unraveled

Scholastic Scope is a popular magazine for elementary and middle school students. It covers a wide range of topics, including science, history, and current events. While the magazine is generally well-written and informative, there have been some complaints about the answer keys for the student quizzes. Some parents and teachers have accused Scholastic Scope of providing lazy or incomplete answer keys that do not provide enough information for students to learn from their mistakes.

Question #1: What is the main idea of the article "The Great Depression"? Answer Key: The Great Depression was a period of severe economic crisis that occurred in the United States from 1929 to 1939.

Question #2: Who was the first woman to fly solo across the Atlantic Ocean? Answer Key: Amelia Earhart

Question #3: What is the capital of France? Answer Key: Paris

Question #4: What is the scientific name for the common house cat? Answer Key: Felis catus

Question #5: What is the largest planet in the solar system? Answer Key: Jupiter

As you can see, the answer keys provided by Scholastic Scope are often very brief and do not provide much information beyond the bare facts. This can be frustrating for students who are trying to learn from their mistakes. In addition, the answer keys are sometimes incomplete or incorrect. For example, the answer key for the question "What is the capital of France?" does not specify that Paris is the capital of France, which could lead students to believe that there is another capital city.

Overall, the answer keys provided by Scholastic Scope are not as helpful as they could be. Parents and teachers should be aware of this and provide their own supplemental information to help students learn from their mistakes.
