What is the proper placement for fog lights? Fog lights work best when mounted in, on, or below the bumper—between 10 and 24 inches above the road surface—or anywhere below the center of the headlights. This positioning allows the fog light beams to cut just under the low-beam headlights, enhancing visibility in foggy conditions.

How should fog lights be wired? The fog lights each have two wires, one for ground and one for the 12V power. One of these wires from each fog light has already been connected to ground. A three-way connection must be made joining the second wire from each of the fog lights to the red wire going to the relay terminal “87.”

Can you install fog lights on a car that doesn't have them? Installing or replacing the fog lights in the cars that come already equipped with them is easy. However, vehicles that do not come with fog lights can also be attached to them. Here we are going to demonstrate how to install fog lights by using the factory fog light, bezel, and wiring kit.

Is it illegal to drive around with fog lights on? These are legal in California, but the state's vehicle code has these conditions: A vehicle must not turn on more than two fog lamps at a time. Fog lamps must be used with, not instead of, regular headlights. Fog lights must be in the white to yellow color spectrum.

Is it worth installing fog lights? The fact is that, while fog lights do have their uses, most people don't actually need them. Since they are only useful in a very narrow range of circumstances, you only need them if you actually find yourself driving under those specific circumstances a lot.

Why do Hondas have yellow fog lights? In the same way, looking closely at blue lights can make your sight fuzzy. Yellow lights are the only light color most drivers can withstand in the fog.

How do you align fog lights? Measure the distance between the center of the fog light and the ground. Then place a horizontal mark on the wall at that height. (See illustration.) Now adjust the lights so the top of the fog beam pattern is about 4 inches below the lamp center at 25 feet with the lamp facing straight forward.

Do fog lights turn on when headlights are on? Fog lights have a dedicated switch that allows them to be turned on separately from the headlights and the tail lights.
