Later, Cay arrives at Vivian's hotel room, where they initially clash but ultimately consummate their love after Cay removes her clothes and invites Vivian to bed.

What happens at the end of Desert Hearts? In the final scene, at the train station (the film also opens with an arriving train), Viv pleads with Cay to join her in New York. We can feel it coming: a teary goodbye as Cay remains in Reno and Viv goes back, the two hoping to see each other again someday.

What book is Desert Hearts based on? Screenwriter Natalie Cooper loosely adapted DESERT HEARTS from Jane Rule's 1964 novel Desert of the Heart, one of the few hardcover books about lesbians in an era of pulp fiction.

What does we were withered trees in the heart of the desert mean? By using a metaphor, the author compares the Jewish prisoners to dried up trees in the middle of the desert. In this quote, Elie Wiesel is explaining how emotionally and physically drained they are in the concentration camps and how they have lost their will to live.

What is it you want another 40 minutes with you? Vivian : I'll talk fast. Cay : Send me a postcard when you get there. What is it you want? Vivian : Another 40 minutes with you.

What is a famous quote about the desert? "What makes the desert beautiful is that somewhere it hides a well." "The desert tells a different story every time one ventures on it." — Robert Edison Fulton Jr.

What is the Mayer's model of multimedia? Mayer's Multimedia Principle dictates that people learn better from words and pictures than from words alone. Enhance learning by combining words and pictures in multimedia content. This principle emphasizes that people retain information more effectively when visual elements accompany textual explanations.

What is the principle of multimedia? The multimedia principle states that people learn better from words and pictures than from words alone. It is supported by empirically derived theory suggesting that words and images evoke different conceptual processes and that perception and learning are active, constructive processes.

What is the multimedia principle of eLearning? Multimedia Principle Presenting information in multiple formats helps learners process and integrate information more effectively. How to apply the multimedia principle: Use a mix of text and images. Incorporate visuals to illustrate key points in the eLearning program.

What is the dual channel assumption? The dual- channel processing assumption states that humans have two separate channels that process auditory and visual information.

What are the three core assumptions of Multimedia Learning theory? The Cognitive Theory of Multimedia Learning In order to do so, he relies on three main assumptions about how we process information when the brain perceives a multimedia message: The dual channel assumption. The limited capacity assumption. The active processing assumption.

What is an example of Multimedia Learning? Multimedia learning describes learning through the use of pictures and words. Examples of multimedia learning include watching a PowerPoint presentation, watching a pre-recorded lecture or reading a physics textbook.

What are the three views of Multimedia Learning? Multimedia learning may be viewed as response strengthening (in which multimedia environments are used as drill-and-practice systems), information acquisition (in which multimedia messages serve as information delivery vehicles), or as knowledge construction (in which multimedia messages include aids to sense-making) ...

What are the five common but questionable principles of Multimedia Learning?

What is the five elements of multimedia? There are five basic elements of multimedia: text, images, audio, video and animation. Example - Text in fax, Photographic images, Geographic information system maps, Voice commands, Audio messages, Music, Graphics, Moving graphics animation, Full-motion stored and live video, Holographic images.
