1. What is the difference between a scalar and a vector quantity?

- Scalar quantities have only magnitude, while vector quantities have both magnitude and direction. For example, temperature is a scalar, while velocity is a vector.

2. What is the equation of motion for a constant acceleration?

- $v = u + at$, where v is the final velocity, u is the initial velocity, a is the acceleration, and t is the time.

3. What is the relationship between force and acceleration?

- According to Newton's second law of motion, the force acting on an object is equal to its mass times its acceleration: $F = ma$.

4. What is the equation for the work done by a constant force?

- $W = Fd$, where W is the work done, F is the force, and d is the displacement.

5. What is the law of conservation of energy?

- The law of conservation of energy states that the total energy of an isolated system remains constant over time. Energy can be transferred or transformed from one form to another, but it cannot be created or destroyed.
