What is an example of structural violence in fresh fruit broken bodies? The Triqui workers have it much worse: one says that she can't feel anything at all in her body, and another reports that he can't run anymore. This is example of structural violence, or the way social hierarchy creates physical suffering.

Do migrant workers still exist today? Today it is estimated that there are about 10.7 million undocumented migrant workers in the United States, many of whom come from Mexico and other countries in Central America. These workers often travel to the United States to look for occupational opportunities and to provide economic stability for their families.

What crops did migrant workers pick? In an attempt to maintain a steady income, workers had to follow the harvest around the state. When potatoes were ready to be picked, the migrants needed to be where the potatoes were. The same principle applied to harvesting cotton, lemons, oranges, peas, and other crops.

Tigrinya Grammar Simplified: Questions and Answers

1. What is Tigrinya? Tigrinya is a Semitic language primarily spoken in Eritrea and northern Ethiopia. It is the official language of Eritrea and one of the working languages of Ethiopia. Tigrinya is characterized by its complex grammar system and unique alphabet.

2. What is the basic structure of a Tigrinya sentence? Tigrinya sentences typically follow a subject-verb-object (SVO) structure. Noun declension is used extensively to indicate grammatical cases (e.g., nominative, accusative). Verbs have a rich system of tenses, moods, and aspects.

3. How are Tigrinya nouns declined? Tigrinya nouns are declined into two genders (masculine and feminine) and two numbers (singular and plural). The declension pattern varies depending on the ending of the noun. For example, masculine nouns ending in "-a" form the plural by changing the ending to "-at."

4. How are Tigrinya verbs conjugated? Tigrinya verbs are conjugated based on person, number, gender, and tense. The present tense is formed by adding a prefix to the verb root. The past tense is formed by adding a suffix to the verb root. Perfective and imperfective aspects are also expressed through specific verb forms.

5. What are some unique features of Tigrinya grammar? Tigrinya grammar has several distinctive features:

- Tripartite negation: Negation can be expressed three times in a single sentence.
- Demonstrative pronouns: Tigrinya has a complex system of demonstrative pronouns, distinguishing between proximity and direction.
- Copula: The verb "to be" is expressed by the copula "kwun," which agrees with the subject in gender and number.
- Relative clauses: Relative clauses are introduced by the relative pronouns "zeni" and "zedi."
