However, you can still subtly tailor your personal statement by focusing your “angle” on the strengths and values of the program.

Is 3 pages too long for law school personal statement? Some schools set no limit for personal statements, but most suggest either 2–3 or 2–4 pages. Aim for two pages, double-spaced. Do not make the error of thinking that more is better. Law schools value the ability to persuasively convey information in a relatively short space.

As a law student and attorney, I will keep this lesson at the forefront of my mind.

Can you talk about family in a personal statement? ? You might briefly allude to that, but avoid making it a central focus. For example, you might mention working summers in your mother's practice.
