What is the story of eleven kinds of loneliness? This has eleven short stories that are mainly based in and around New York and have a slight melancholy feel to them, the delicious kind that makes you feel nostalgic without the depression that can come after. The theme of loneliness, in all its forms, runs through this book and many stories are immensely poignant.

Who wrote the history of loneliness? A History of Loneliness - John Boyne.

What is the message of the story eleven? Author's Message (theme) is that, as we move forward in life, we all carry the years that came before us. Even though we get older, we still have moments when the child within us comes out. There are times when life can be a struggle between remaining young and growing up.

What is the main problem in the story eleven? What is the main conflict in "Eleven" by Sandra Cisneros? The main conflict is Rachel's teacher insisting an abandoned sweater belongs to her, even when Rachel says it does not. The teacher forces Rachel to put the sweater on, and she cries in front of her class.

Is a history of loneliness based on a true story? 'A History of Loneliness' tells the life story of Father Odran Yates and his family. It was his overly zealous, religious mother who had steered him to enter a seminary in 1974 after his father had committed suicide.

When was the well of loneliness banned? In 1928 Radclyffe Hall's The Well of Loneliness, which got no more racy than 'she kissed her full on the lips like a lover', led to an obscenity trial which considered the implications of the national shortage of men and 'two women in bed making beasts of themselves'.

What is the girl who wrote loneliness about? The Girl Who Wrote Loneliness is a stark and lyrical work that follows a teen-aged girl who has just arrived in Seoul to work in a factory while struggling to achieve her dream of finishing school and becoming a writer.

What is the main idea of Eleven? The book includes themes about maturity and responsibility, but it is primarily about what it means to be a hero, and how sometimes the most heroic acts come from finding the courage to show kindness to others when times are tough.

What is the symbolism in eleven? The red sweater symbolizes social ostracization and poverty. From its introduction, it is presented as an undesirable object. Mrs. Price points out that it's "been sitting in the coatroom for a month," and every student in class denies owning it, saying, "Not mine [...]"

Who is the main character in the story Eleven? Rachel. The main character and narrator. The story takes place on her eleventh birthday, and her narrative is comprised of her many thoughts about growing up, as exemplified in the incident with the sweater when Mrs. Price forces her to claim even though it doesn't belong to her.

What is the backstory of eleven? Fictional character biography. Born Jane Ives, Eleven is the daughter of Teresa "Terry" Ives, and a participant in the Project MKUltra experiments conducted by the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA). Eleven appears to have been born a psychic with notable telekinetic and extrasensory abilities.

What happens first in the story eleven? Rachel is a young girl who has just turned eleven; today is her birthday. She begins the story by explaining the ways in which birthdays are complicated. Your new age includes all the ages you have been before, and even when you turn eleven, you don't feel like you're eleven.

What is the quote from the story eleven? "I wish I was anything but eleven, because I want today to be far away already, far away like a runaway balloon, like a tiny o in the sky, so tiny tiny you have to close your eyes to see it." Rachel wants to remove herself from the deep embarrassment of her day.

Why was the book The Well of Loneliness banned? Sir Chartres Biron, ruled that although the book was dignified and restrained, it presented an appeal to “decent people” to not only recognize lesbianism but also understand that the person so afflicted was not at fault. He judged the book an “obscene libel” and ordered all copies of it destroyed.

What is the story of no one here is lonely about? The story follows Eden, an eighteen-year-old whose crush of four years suddenly dies right before graduation. We see Eden grieve over the fact that she never took a chance to be with Will before he died. Then we learn that Eden's mother is having an affair, and the entire novel shifts focus.

What is the story of escaping eleven? In this post-apocalyptic YA series opener, a teen is determined to leave her restrictive underground community for the perilous world above. The sun has rendered life on Earth's surface unsuitable for humanity. Sixteen-year-old Eve Hamilton lives in Compound Eleven, a self-sustaining underground city with five levels.

What is the plot of the end of loneliness? The End of Loneliness is about how the death of Marty, Liz and Jules' parents at their young ages impacted each of their lives, and we are taken on this journey with them from boarding school to adulthood.
