The Conclusive Argument from God: Shah Wali Allah of Delhi's Hujjat Allah al-Baligha

1. Introduction Shah Wali Allah of Delhi (1703-1762) was a prominent Islamic scholar and reformer who developed a comprehensive philosophical and theological system. His magnum opus, Hujjat Allah al-Baligha (The Conclusive Argument from God), presents a compelling argument for the existence of God based on reason and observation.

2. The Argument from Contingency Shah Wali Allah's argument is rooted in the concept of contingency. He argues that everything in the universe, including human beings, is contingent, meaning that it does not exist from its own essence but rather depends on something else for its existence. This dependency ultimately leads to a first cause, which is God.

3. The Argument from Order and Design Shah Wali Allah also presents an argument from order and design. He observes the intricate and harmonious functioning of the natural world and concludes that it must have been created by an intelligent and purposeful designer. This designer is God, the one who has ordered and sustains the universe.

4. The Argument from Revelation While Shah Wali Allah emphasizes the importance of reason, he also recognizes the role of revelation in establishing belief in God. He maintains that the prophets and messengers have brought divine revelations that provide further evidence for the existence and nature of God.

5. Implications for Science and Philosophy Shah Wali Allah's argument from God has implications for both science and philosophy. It provides a rational basis for scientific inquiry, as it suggests that the universe is ordered and intelligible. Furthermore, it challenges the idea of metaphysical materialism and supports a theistic worldview.

The Return of the Black Widowers

The Black Widowers, a group of amateur sleuths led by Sir Henry Merrivale, make a triumphant return in Agatha Christie's captivating novel, "The Return of the Black Widowers." This beloved group of eccentrics gathers at a charming country inn to share their wits and solve a series of puzzling crimes.

Question 1: Who is Sir Henry Merrivale? Answer: Sir Henry Merrivale is a retired High Court judge and the esteemed leader of the Black Widowers. His keen intellect and years of experience make him an indispensable force in solving complex mysteries.

Question 2: What is the connection between the Black Widowers and spiders? Answer: The name "Black Widowers" is a humorous reference to the poisonous female spiders that kill their mates after mating. However, this moniker alludes to the group's unique ability to unmask hidden motives and uncover the truth.

Question 3: What kind of crimes do the Black Widowers solve? Answer: The Black Widowers tackle a wide range of crimes, from baffling murders to puzzling disappearances. Their investigations involve interviewing suspects, examining clues, and unraveling intricate webs of deception.

Question 4: What are some of the unique characters in the novel? Answer: The novel features a vibrant cast of characters, each with their own eccentricities and special skills. There's Colonel Bantry, a retired army officer with a knack for finding unlikely solutions; Dr. Thomas Griffith, a psychiatrist with a keen eye for human behavior; and Father Gorman, a priest with a penchant for witty observations.

Question 5: How does the novel end? Answer: The Black Widowers eventually solve the mysteries that have plagued them, but not without a few unexpected twists and turns. In the end, they demonstrate the power of teamwork, camaraderie, and their unwavering commitment to justice.
