Winning Poker Tournaments One Hand at a Time: Volume I

Q1: What's the most important concept to master in poker tournaments?

A: Discipline. Playing every hand is not the path to victory. Sit tight, wait for strong hands, and fold patiently.

Q2: How does position affect my strategy?

A: Later position (button vs. blinds) gives you an information advantage and allows for more aggression. Earlier position (blinds vs. button) requires caution and playing only premium hands.

Q3: What's the difference between tournaments and cash games?

A: Tournaments have a finite number of chips in play, while cash games have an infinite supply. This dynamic changes the strategic play; in tournaments, it's essential to protect your stack, while in cash games, taking calculated risks is more acceptable.

Q4: How can I avoid getting blinded out?

A: Pay attention to the blinds and antes, and adjust your play accordingly. Short-stacking can be effective in the early stages, but be aware of the risks involved.

Q5: What's the key to success in the late stages of a tournament?

A: Patience and composure. Play selectively, avoid unnecessary risks, and wait for your moments to strike. It's better to lose a few chips here and there than try to force the issue and bust out.
